SECTION B: MODULE 2

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 4

The extracts below relate to the experiences of Africans during slavery. Study them, then answer questions (a) to (d) that follow.

DOCUMENT I

During that day [Sunday] the field Negroes in Barbados are, almost universally, employed either in cultivating their little spots of ground in order to eke out their scanty allowance of food; or in travelling, many of them, for several miles, to market, with a few roots, or fruits ... The masons, carpenters, ... do little jobs on their own account.

DOCUMENT II

Punch, beer, wine, were again handed round, and the attendants in naked grace were employed in beating off with fragrant branches the remorseless mosquitoes ... The night was marked by copious libations and smoking, until at length; overpowered with fatigue, repletion, and happiness, the Lordly Planters sunk into the arms of repose, to dream of insurrections and earthquakes.

DOCUMENT III

Their mental and physical indolence, in short, their collective intellectual powers that stand at a very low level, allow of the Negroes being endowed with but a few good qualities, among which their unlimited gratitude shines Forth as the most brilliant ... [but] their unbounded thirst for revenge ... is very striking. Not only in connection with his physique but also in regard to disposition, a marked difference is shown between the Creole negro and the one brought straight from Africa: the latter is reserved and mischievous, the former is ever cheerful, light-hearted and ready for a joke.

SECTION C: MODULE 3

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 7

The extracts below relate to the Cuban Revolution. Study them, then answer questions (a) to (d) that follow.

DOCUMENT I

The people - and especially the Republic - should keep tuned to Radio Rebelde, make preparations for a general strike in all workplaces and begin it when they receive the order, if it is needed, to resist a counter-revolutionary coup attempt ... The people and the Rebel Army must be more united and firmer than ever before, so the victory that has cost so many lives may not be snatched away.

Fidel Castro, Instructions from General Headquarters to all Rebel Army Commanders and the People, January 1, 1959, in G. C. Luis (ed.) Cuban Revolution Reader, New York: Ocean Press, 2001, p.14.

DOCUMENT II

The first thing that those of us who have carried out this revolution have to ask ourselves is why we did so. Was it out of ambition, a lust for power or any other ignoble reason? Were any of the combatants for this revolution idealists who ... sought other ends? Did we carry out the revolution thinking that, as soon as the dictatorship was overthrown, we would benefit from being in power...?

Address by Fidel Castro in Cespedes Park, Santiago de Cuba, January 2, 1959, in G. C. Luis (ed.) Cuban Revolution Reader, New York: Ocean Press, 2001, p.20.

DOCUMENT III

The National General Assembly of the People of Cuba strongly condemns U. S. imperialism for its gross and criminal domination, lasting more than a century, of all the peoples of Latin America, who more than once have seen the soil of Mexico, Nicaragua, Haiti, Santo Domingo and Cuba invaded; who have lost to a greedy imperialism such wide and rich lands as Texas, such vital strategic zones as the Panama Canal, and even, as in the case of Puerto Rico, entire countries converted into territories of occupation; who have suffered the insults of the Marines towards our wives and daughters ...
