SECTION A – MODULE 1

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 1

The extracts below relate to the early contact between West Africans and Europeans up to 1492. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a) – (d) that follow.

Document I

... [The crown prince, Henry the Navigator] has leased this island of Argin [off the coast of West Africa] to Christians, so that no one can enter the bay to trade with the Arabs save those who hold the licence. These have dwellings on the island and factories where they buy and sell with the said Arabs who come to the host to trade for merchandise of various kinds...

Alvise da Cadamosto, "Description of Capo Bianco and the Islands Nearest to it," (1455–1456) in J.H. Parry, European Reconnaissance: Selected Documents, New York: Walker, 1968, pp. 59–61. Retrieved from http://college.cengage.com/history/world/bulleit.earht_peoples/2e/students/primary/slave_trade.htm, December 01, 2010.

Document II

...Their [Africans] lot was now quite contrary of what it had been...in that they lived like beasts, without any custom of reasonable beings — for they had no knowledge of bread or wine, and they were without covering of clothes, or the lodgement of houses; and worse than all, through the great ignorance that was in them, in that they had no understanding of good, but only knew how to live in a bestial sloth.

Document III

...They took as an offering the best of those Moors to the church of that place; and another little Moor, who afterwards became a friar of St. Francis, they sent to St Vincent do Cabo [Portugal], where he lived ever after as a Catholic Christian, without having understanding or perception of any other law than that true and holy law in which all Christians hope for our salvation.

SECTION B – MODULE 2

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 4

The extracts below relate to the dismantling of the slave system in the Caribbean. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a) – (d) that follow.

Document I

The custom I mean to reprobate [denounce], is the selling of a cargo of slaves by what is called a scramble. This is shutting them up in the merchant's house, or the area adjoining, and at the beat of a drum, or some other signal, all those who intend to become purchasers, rush on suddenly ... Although the negroes are generally prepared for this, by being pre-informed of what is to happen, yet some of the women and children have been known to expire, from the excess of terror, which is incited by a scene of such confusion and uproar.

Gordon Turnbull, An Apology for Negro Slavery: or the West-Indian Planters Vindicated from the Charges of Inhumanity, 2nd ed., London: Stuart and Stevenson, 1786, pp. 21–26.

Document II

At a time like the present, when it is found that by the too great increase of colonial produce, the markets of the world are overstocked, and the price proportionally reduced, an experiment for putting an end to traffic, attended always with inhumanity and injustice might be tried with the least possible damage to the interests of the colonies...

Lord Castlereagh to Governor of Jamaica, January 14, 1808, in F.R. Augier and Shirley Gordon, Sources of West Indian History, Longman Caribbean, 1962, pp. 126–127.

Document III

I know that people will tell me we do not wish to perpetuate slavery — we merely wish to postpone it till the negroes are fit for freedom — till they manifest a disposition for laborious industry sufficient to qualify them for the privileges of free men.

Secretary Stanley, Ministerial Proposition for the Emancipation of Slaves: House of Commons, May 14, 1833, in Roy Augier, ed., Debates in Parliament on the Motion to Abolish Slavery, Kingston: Department of History, UWI, 1988, p. 44.

SECTION C – MODULE 3

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 7

The extracts below relate to the social and economic reconstruction in Haiti, 1804–1825. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a) – (d) that follow.

Document I

...the Emperor Dessalines, though a brave soldier, and an ardent patriot, animated with the most lively desire to promote the welfare and prosperity of his fellow citizens and his country, was nevertheless deficient in those talents which are requisite in a good governor; and to this first misfortune he yet added that of surrounding himself with immoral and corrupt men in the pay of France, who enticed him to his ruin...

Document II

Henry Christophe...on taking the helm of the state, applied himself seriously to the duties of his post. He reorganized all the branches of the public service, and corrected the disorders which had existed under the preceding Government. His comprehensive eye embraced all the details of the administration, police, justice, finance, commerce, agriculture, and military discipline...
