SECTION A: MODULE 1

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 1

The extracts below relate to the early contact between Europe and the Americas prior to 1492. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a) – (d) that follow.

Document I

The references to the details of the land itself are so insistent and so much in agreement that there can be little doubt that ...[the Vikings] found a land where crops and what appeared to be grapes grew wild and where salmon ran in the rivers.

*Francis Donald Logan, The Vikings in History.

Document II

The American anthropologist Paul Duerrenberger has pointed out that the function of the Icelandic sagas was primarily cultural. He has suggested that the sagas are neither art nor history.

*Brigitta Wallace, Norse Expansion into North America.
Retrieved from www.stavacademy.co.uk/mimir/norseexpand.htm.
January 4, 2011.*

Document III

Until 1960 L'Anse aux Meadows ... was a tiny unknown fishing village of about seventy souls... Now a road runs into that village, a national park has been opened there, and its name has been broadcast across lands and seas.

*Francis Donald Logan, The Vikings in History.
New York: Routledge, 1991, p. 99.*

(a) With reference to Document I:

(i) State ONE possible objective of the Vikings' expedition to the Americas.

[2 marks]

(ii) Outline TWO activities in which the Vikings most likely were engaged after their arrival in the Americas.

[4 marks]

SECTION B: MODULE 2

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 4

The extracts below relate to the institution of slavery in the Caribbean. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a) – (d) that follow.

Document I

...yesterday morning [I] received an express [message] from GG [Golden Grove sugar plantation] that by some accident the night before that one of the trash houses took fire and had consumed not only that, but the other three, which were burnt to the ground with one Negro house... How the accident happened none could tell. But I suspected it be from the negroes.

*Letter from Simon Taylor Lyssons, St Thomas in the East, 29th January 1793 to Chaloner Arcedekne.
Vanneck (Arcedekne) Papers, Jamaican Estate Records 1765–1810. (J.E.R.).
Cambridge: Cambridge University Library.*

Document II

Never do anything to injure your children born or unborn... It is murder and they who do it will surely perish.

*Evidence of Sir M.B. Clare, M D;
“A series of tracts for Slaves in the West Indies”, (nd)
Cited in Mary Turner, Slaves and Missionaries.
Urbana: University of Illinois Press, 1982, p. 44.*

Document III

One Dr. Collins ... kept a woman belonging to you named Catherine, and had by her three sons, whose names are Johnny Chaplin, Edward Kidvallide Collins [and] Isaac Collins. He left Archer his executor, and money in his hands to buy the freedom of these people. He gave himself no trouble about it in his life, but by his will he mentioned it, and desires they may be bought.

SECTION C: MODULE 3

Answer ONE question only from this section.

Question 7.

The extracts below relate to the establishment of the peasantry in the Caribbean in the nineteenth century. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a) – (d) that follow.

Document I

Little progress has been made by the labourers in establishing themselves as freeholders, not from any disinclination on their part to become so, but, circumstanced as our island [Barbados] is, there is little probability of any great number being able to obtain freeholds.

Report of the Select Committee of the House of Commons on West India Colonies, 1842.
In Hilary Beckles, A History of Barbados: From Amerindian Settlement to Nation States.
Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2007, pp.114–115.

Document II

In some instances labourers have purchased small lots of land and thus become proprietors. I should be glad if this were a general practice. It would put an end to the cause of irritation which may continue to exist while they hold their houses and grounds on an uncertain tenure; it would not necessarily throw them out of the labouring class, their properties not being sufficiently large to exempt them entirely from the necessity of seeking other means of support.

Sir Charles Metcalfe, Governor of Jamaica, to the Marquis of Normandy,
Secretary of State for the Colonies, October 1839.
In Hugh Paget, “The Free Village System in Jamaica,” Caribbean Quarterly, Vol. 1 No. 4, 1949.

Document III

In 1847, there were comparatively few [Creoles] living in the villages, but now there are comparatively few living on the estates. The village lands are cultivated now to a great extent, and a great many people are engaged in growing provisions.

The Colonist, 6 July 1881.
In Walter Rodney, A History of the Guyanese Working People, 1881–1905,
Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Studies in Atlantic History and Culture, 1981, p. 76.

- (a) With reference to Document I, explain why the former enslaved (freed people) in Barbados experienced difficulties as they tried to establish themselves as independent proprietors during the nineteenth century. Include THREE reasons in your response. [9 marks]
