SECTION A: MODULE 1

Answer ONE question only from this section.

1. The extracts below relate to Spanish settlement in the Caribbean up to 1600. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a)–(d) that follow.

Document I

We shall make it evidently appear to your Majesty, that the Spaniards in about eight and thirty or forty years have unjustly put to death above twelve million of your subjects; and what an incredible damage must your Majesty have further sustained by these massacres, as they have hindered all these people from multiplying...

Las Casas, An Account of the First Voyages and Discoveries made by the Spaniards in America, (1540) in F.R. Augier and S. Gordon, Sources of West Indian History, London: Longman Group Ltd., 1962, 3.

Document II

Some it quite covered [with pustules] on all parts – their faces, their heads, their breasts... There was a great havoc. Very many died of it. They could not walk; they only lay in their resting places and beds.

Bernardino de Sahagun, Florentine Codex: General History of the Things of New Spain, (circa 1576) trans. Arthur J.O. Anderson and Charles E. Dibble, 13:81 in Alfred W. Crosby, The Columbian Exchange: Biological and Cultural Consequences of 1492 Connecticut: Greenwood Press, 1972, 56.

Document III

They believed that all the huacas [gods] of the kingdom, all those that the Christians had burnt and destroyed, had come to life again... that they were all preparing in the heavens to do battle against God to conquer him... now the world was completing its cycle, God and the Spaniards would this time be conquered and all the Spaniards killed, their towns swallowed up, and the sea would swell up to submerge them and wipe out their memory.

Cristobal de Molina, Relacion de las fabulas y ritos de las Incas [1575] (Lima, 1916) in Nathan Wachtel, "The Indian and the Spanish Conquest", in Leslie Bethell (ed.) The Cambridge History of Latin America, Vol. 1, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1984, 238–9.

SECTION B: MODULE 2

Answer ONE question only from this section.

4. The extracts below relate to European indentureship. Study the extracts, then answer Parts (a)–(d) that follow.

Document I

This island [Barbados] is inhabited with all sorts: with English, French, Dutch, Scots, Irish, Spaniards they being Jews...and miserable Negroes born to perpetual slavery...This island is the dunghill whereon England doth cast forth its rubbish. Rogues and whores and such like people are those which are generally brought here.

“Extracts from Henry Whistler’s Journal of the West India Expedition,” in C.H. Firth ed., The Narrative of General Venables, with an Appendix of Papers Relating to the Expedition to the West Indies and the Conquest of Jamaica, 1654–1655 (London, 1909, 145–147).

Document II

As for the usage of the Servants, it is much as the Master is, merciful or cruel; Those that are merciful, treat their Servants well, both in their meat, drink and lodging, and give them such work, as is not unfit for Christians to do. But if the Master be cruel, the Servants have very wearisome and miserable lives.

Richard Ligon, The True and Exact History of the Island of Barbados 1657, edited by J. Edward, Hutson, Wildey, St Michael, Barbados: The Barbados National Trust, 2000, 64.

Document III

A little before I came from thence, there was such a combination (agreement) amongst them [servants], as the like was never seen before. Their suffering had grown to a great height, and their daily complaining to one another (of the intolerable burdens they labour’d under) being spread throughout the island.
